A Natural Place to Move

A Message from Mayor Patricia M. Randall

“From chaos to calm,” is how I viewed our city’s response to the tornadoes on May 7, 2024. The twisters traveled eleven miles in twenty-two minutes leaving a trail of destruction to homes, businesses, trees, and utility poles along its indiscriminate course. We have all been kept up to date by the local and national media in the days since the devastating event. News crews have reported stories of the loss of property along with photos and videos of the worst hit sites. If a picture can convey a thousand words, we have all witnessed the equivalent of volumes of damage up close and personal.

If there was a silver lining to the destruction, it was that not a single life was lost. That miraculous news was what propelled us forward together, as a city. Now that the media has moved on to other stories in distant places, I would like to share a Portage-centric view of the city’s response and how we put years of training and drills into practical use.

Immediately following the second tornado, an Emergency Response Team was assembled consisting of the leadership within City Hall and our Department of Public Safety. It was definitely an all-hands-on-deck process. Our team immediately took charge of the situation and worked together quite calmly, I may add.

Damage assessment was the first step, but the impending darkness, rain, and fog that first night complicated it. Police officers went door to door offering assistance and immediate shelter within the Portage Zhang Senior Center. In the early morning hours, all vital city staff had reported to assist within their given area of expertise. As the sun rose on a new day, assessment went into full gear. Re-confirmation of the fact that there were no fatalities and only a handful of injuries rallied our spirits and allowed all involved to focus on addressing property damage.

Consumers Energy reported that over 21,000 customers were without power. As inconvenient as that can be to a household, the city had real concerns. A large number of our most important safety measures were inoperable, including the following:

- » Twenty-one traffic signals
- » Eight intersections with broken poles and mast arms
- » Five public water well fields
- » Thirty-one sanitary sewer lift stations

To ensure public safety, we had to take immediate action to restore the infrastructure critical to residents’ well-being regardless of cost. With the aid of Severance Electric and Veolia staff, our systems were restored in record time. Only three minor accidents occurred at intersections without signals, which can be attributed to the patience of our drivers. Not a single household had sewage issues or unclean water because portable generators were moved from one station to the next throughout that night and the following days. As generators became available to rent or borrow, the lift became lighter.

Extensive tree removal enabled us to open all major roads within twenty-four hours. Restoring the trail system required four days due to complications caused by five fallen utility poles. All trails are now open, except our beloved Celery Flats, which received extensive damage to the historical buildings.

The pickup of natural debris commenced immediately to clean up our roadsides, parks, cemeteries, and residents’ properties. All remaining debris will be sorted and picked up until cleanup is complete. I’d like to thank the hundreds of volunteers who answered the call in our time of need to help with the cleanup effort. Team Rubicon volunteers came from afar, stayed on cots in the Portage Zhang Senior Center for two weeks, and were fed by numerous organizations.

We know cleanup will be expensive: estimates total at least two million dollars. “Reserve” funds will pay the bills thanks to smart planning by the Council and staff. I declared a “State of Emergency” the evening of the tornadoes, primarily to trigger state and/or federal reimbursement of storm-related expenses. I am optimistic that this will happen, but patience is required as we navigate the various government processes. Insurance will cover the additional three million dollars in damage to our buildings, traffic signals, street lights, fences, etc.

Technology is great, especially when it works: our PortageAlert was picked up on many types of devices from here to as far away as a river cruise in Europe. Our investment in the PortageAlert system and neighborhood sirens paid off; those lacking the devices to receive alerts were still able to hear the city’s alarms and seek shelter.

Many people do not fully understand all of the things that our city government is responsible for. The recent tornadoes highlighted many of them. The infrastructure we manage requires tax dollars to plan, maintain, and improve. Know that your investment in our community is well-managed. When the tornadoes hit, we were ready. Once they had passed, we acted. I am immensely proud of our city, residents, volunteers, and staff.

Here’s my standing ovation, People of Portage!

– Patricia M. Randall

City Council Adopts Balanced Budget for Fiscal Year 2024-2025

On May 28, 2024, the Portage City Council took a significant step forward in fortifying the city’s financial future by adopting the Fiscal Year 2024-2025 budget proposed by the City Administration. The budget:

- » Maintains the city tax rate (millage) at 10.6400 mills;
- » Maintains the City Council prescribed fund balance for the General Fund of at least 20% of General Fund expenditures; and
- » Preserves the City of Portage position in the lower 20% of Michigan cities with populations between 30,000 and 70,000 in millage level.

Totaling 25 funds, the City of Portage budget outlines planned expenditures totaling nearly $103 million. Notably, the General Fund allocation is close to $35.5, marking an increase of approximately $4.4 million (14%) compared to the preceding fiscal year. Within the General Fund, provisions have been made for various essential initiatives, including a new business façade improvement program, enhanced inclusion support efforts, additional employee positions, cost of living adjustments, and other necessary inflationary expenses.

The Fiscal Year 2024-2025 Capital Improvement Program (CIP) budget contains projects totaling $26.5 million, reflecting a $2.5 million (10%) increase from the previous year. Key projects in the CIP budget include major street reconstruction, development of the City Marketplace & Farmers Market, a crucial water project on Meredith Street, upgrades to the City Hall parking lot, and renovations to lift stations.

To address the needs of essential services, expenditures within the Water and Sewer funds have increased to $19.6 million, reflecting a $586,219 (3%) rise from the previous year. Factors contributing to this increase include higher sewer treatment charges from the City of Kalamazoo and a mandatory trunk sewer video inspection. Consequently, the City Council has approved a 6.22% increase in water charges and a 10.05% rate increase in sewer charges, resulting in a combined rate hike of 8.44%. For the typical residential customer, this translates to an additional monthly expense of $5.86, or $0.19 per day (see article to the right).

Net Change to Typical Portage Residential Customer
Change	Sewer	Water	Combined
Per Month	$4.04	$1.82	$5.86
Per Day	$0.13	$0.06	$0.19

Expenditures from the Streets Fund total just over $10 million, an increase of nearly $1.7 million (19.5%) compared to the previous year. The uptick predominantly stems from transferring the Streets Fund fund balance, totaling $1.63 million, to the CIP fund. This transfer will specifically support the vital Meredith Street reconstruction project.

Debt management remains a critical aspect of Portage’s financial strategy, with previous efforts resulting in a notable reduction in municipal debt over the past 16 years. Since Fiscal Year 2007-2008, the city has decreased its debt burden from $105 million to an anticipated $47.5 million by the end of Fiscal Year 2023-2024, representing a remarkable 55% reduction. This achievement has been instrumental in securing and retaining the city’s Standard and Poor’s AA+ rating. Looking ahead, the focus for Fiscal Year 2024-2025 is to further reduce the overall debt balance to $45.96 million.

The City of Portage has also witnessed significant growth in its Total Taxable Value, reaching $2.769 million, the highest in its history, marking a notable increase of 6.79% from the previous year. With this surge, Portage maintains its status as the municipality with the largest tax base in Kalamazoo County.

The Fiscal Year 2024-2025 budget upholds the city’s commitment to prudent financial management, ensuring that General Fund revenue aligns with expenditures. Approved by the Council, this budget is a responsible and robust financial roadmap, addressing community needs while positioning Portage to navigate future financial challenges effectively.

New Budget Includes Utility Rate Increases

As outlined in the article to the left, the City Council approved water and sewer rate increases to take effect on July 1, 2024. Despite these adjustments, the cost remains low, with three gallons of water delivered to the customer’s tap for just a penny and the removal of two gallons of wastewater costing slightly more than a penny.

These increases are necessary based on a combination of a mature water system with a low percentage of new customers, reduced demand due to existing customers installing low-flow devices, and the necessity to construct significant system improvements. Furthermore, continued double-digit increases in sewage treatment costs from the City of Kalamazoo and inflationary pressure also contribute.

Based on findings from the University of Michigan Statewide Water Affordability Assessment, the inflation-adjusted average water expenses in Michigan have soared by 188% since 1980, with certain cities witnessing increases of up to 320%. When we extend this analysis to Portage, the escalation in water costs has been a modest 107%.

According to the same study, “Between 6.59% and 10.75% of households across Michigan struggle with water bills.” If you need assistance paying your water bill, visit portagemi.gov/195 to view assistance resources.

Water Saving Hints

- » Check your toilet twice a year for leaks, which can be almost undetectable to the naked eye and can add significantly to your utility bill. Check your toilets by adding 5 drops of dark food coloring to the tank. Wait 20 minutes and survey the bowl. If colored water appears, you have a leaky toilet.
- » Don’t let your water run when you brush your teeth, wash dishes, or your car.
- » Water your lawn in the early morning or plant water-efficient landscaping. Ensure that your irrigation is watering your lawn and not the sidewalk, driveway, or street.
- » Take a shorter shower.
- » Run only full loads of dishes and clothes.
- » Install low-flow plumbing fixtures.

Speak Up: Share Your Thoughts on the Master Plan

Over the past 18 months, the City of Portage has been working to update its Master Plan as required by the Michigan Planning Enabling Act of 2008. A city’s Master Plan is intended to be an expression of what the community wants to become in the future, and it should be a dependable policy guide for decision-making and action.

The draft Portage Forward Together 2045 Master Plan, now available for public review at ForwardTogether.portagemi.gov, includes an updated future land use plan, among other planning elements, intended to respond to the current and future needs of the city.

Now in the final stage of updating the master plan, the City of Portage has opened a 63-day public comment period, beginning June 4. To help facilitate understanding of the draft Master Plan during this public comment period, Portage residents and property owners are invited to a Master Plan Public Meeting on June 24 from 6:30 to 8 PM at the Portage Zhang Senior Center (203 East Centre Avenue). Learn about the draft Master Plan, ask questions, and submit feedback. The presentation will begin at 6:30 PM with an overview of the draft Master Plan.

Following the draft Master Plan public comment period, a formal Public Hearing will be held by the Portage Planning Commission in late Summer 2024. If you wish to submit comments but are unable to attend the June 24 Master Plan

Public Meeting, visit ForwardTogether.portagemi.gov or email your comments to zhaob@portagemi.gov.

Throughout the 18-month planning process, the City of Portage has engaged the Portage community – residents, key stakeholders, and the Planning Commission – through various working sessions, surveys, and open houses. Continued public input is instrumental in elevating the quality of planning for the community, ensuring that our public choices resonate with the diverse needs of Portage.

Stay up to date and visit the project website at ForwardTogether.portagemi.gov. Track the progress to date, read the completed plan sections, continue to share more ideas and comments, and use the “Keep Me Updated” tab of the project website to stay informed.

City Has Home Improvement Funding Available

Take action by replacing and updating worn-out or even tornado-damaged components of your home. Income-qualified homeowners can apply for a 0% forgivable loan for “a necessary” home improvement. Loans are available on a first-come, first-served basis for as long as funding is available. Improvement examples include the replacement of roofing, furnace, or leaking pipes; repair of a foundation; electrical updates to install GFCI outlets; city water and sewer hook-ups, accessibility ramps, and energy efficiency improvements. Call us to inquire!

Emergency Home Repair Funding

We know to call 9-1-1 if there is a fire or life-threatening situation in our home. But what do you do when your furnace or water heater suddenly breaks, when the plumbing pipe bursts, or when another immediate situation – like a tornado – arises? Homeowners can contact the Department of Community Development at 324-9280 before any work is done and inquire about emergency funding assistance. Reimbursements are not eligible. Staff will quickly partner with homeowners to assist with the necessary paperwork, contractor assistance, and follow-up as needed to address the emergency. Eligibility includes manufactured homeowners.

Income eligibility is established by HUD (see requirements below). All loans are forgivable subject to the terms of the loan agreement. No work will be paid for retroactively.

Household Size	Maximum Annual Income
1 Person	$56,450
2 Person	$64,500
3 Person	$72,550
4 Person	$80,600

Please call the Department of Community Development at 324-9280 for additional information.

United in Recovery After the Storm

It’s been just over a month since an EF-2 tornado struck Portage on May 7, 2024. Living in the Midwest, we understand the risks of tornadoes, but experiencing one in our city was a shock. The memories of that Tuesday evening will stay with us for a long time.

#ForwardTogether and #PortageCares are more than just hashtags. They represent our community’s resilience and collective effort to recover and heal. The overwhelming support from near and far has been heartening. Neighbors helping neighbors, volunteers from across the country bunking in Portage, and generous donations of supplies and funds have made a significant impact (see the list to the right). Our community’s response has been nothing short of extraordinary and the outpouring of support has been a testament to our strength and unity.

Despite this, the journey to recovery and normalcy will be long and challenging for some. If you need assistance, the City of Portage is here to help. If we can’t provide the help you need, we will connect you with agencies that can.

Visit our Tornado Recovery Resources web page at portagemi.gov/927 or scan the QR code below. There, you can find FAQs, community resources, and the latest city announcements. If you can’t find the answer to your question, please call the Office of the City Manager at 329-4400.
