A Natural Place to Move

A Message from Mayor Patricia M. Randall

Where we choose to live has a significant impact on our lives. It influences our health, our well-being and even our personalities. Access to resources, environmental conditions and social determinants all help shape one’s sense of self. Our behavior can also be traced back to our upbringing. My childhood home in Portage was built in 1966 for $27,500. Last month that house sold for $275,000, appreciating 900% over 59 years.

As home prices soar, wages have not kept up. This has put homeownership out of reach for many. A house built in Portage for $250,000 five years ago now sells for $375,000. Residential interest rates have jumped from 3% to 7%. Down-payment requirements increase as the percentage of the sale price increases. Five years ago payments were only $1,417 versus the $2,983 they are today when comparing carrying costs on a monthly basis, including insurance and property tax.

Housing options have shifted in reaction to the market. In a period of ten days in May and June, I attended ceremonies for four vastly different housing options, each introducing a new concept to our community. All are affordable for the middle income wage earner, referred to as Workforce Housing according to the “Area Medium Income” scale. The “AMI” is a key metric in affordable housing. This benchmark is calculated each year by the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development on a regional basis to determine the midpoint of income ranges for federal and state housing programs.

In our region, the AMI for a single wage earner ranges from 80-120%, or $53,680 to $80,520 annually. By including units below market rate, the developer accepts less rental income in exchange for financial incentives offered by county, state and federal programs. It is a complicated puzzle, but helps address the housing crisis by making such projects financially feasible.

Starting with Stanwood Crossings – the first ever city-driven, 42 single family home development – we took “affordability” head-on. This neighborhood is uniquely positioned as both 100% workforce and 100% owner occupied, and will remain so into perpetuity. The land will be owned by the Portage Community Land Trust, while the homes are owned by an individual or family within the AMI income range. This will include people working as teachers, police officers, fire fighters, nurses, retail and office managers, etc.

Tall Timbers is a 180-unit, LEED apartment complex offering luxury living, with 10% of the units committed to workforce housing for the next 20 years. The ten acre development is environmentally focused with features including panoramic views and underground parking.

Oakland Commons offers 58 single-family, duplex, triplex and quad unit homes, all for lease. This community also features a unique layout: The homes face a central courtyard rather than the street. Creekside Commons offers 48 single-family and quad homes, also all for lease. Both of these “rent-a-home” neighborhoods are a new concept within Portage. Twenty percent of each of these developments will be dedicated to workforce housing for fifteen years. With all landscaping and plowing performed by the developer, they will be beautifully maintained.

These four housing projects will supply an additional 326 housing units and a total investment of $97 million within the city of Portage. They are projected to generate over $1.4 million in taxes paid each year, per assessment at their current market value. The numbers speak for themselves.

One thing we can take away from all of this: Portage continues to be a desirable place to live. For that, I am grateful.

– Patricia M. Randall

A Smarter, Safer, More Affordable Way to Collect Trash in Portage

The City of Portage is exploring a transition to a single-hauler waste collection system in an effort to streamline garbage, yard waste, and recycling services for residents. In January 2025, the City Council amended the City Code of Ordinances to allow for an exclusive provider to handle the collection and processing of solid waste, bulk items, yard waste, and recyclables.

This decision reflects long-standing City Council goals to deliver waste services that are more cost-effective, efficient, transparent, and less damaging to public infrastructure. Following a comprehensive analysis and a competitive bidding process, city officials are recommending the selection of a single provider to enhance public safety, lower costs, and simplify waste collection for all Portage households.

Why Make the Switch?

Currently, three different garbage companies operate throughout Portage. This patchwork approach results in overlapping routes, variable pricing from household to household, heavy truck traffic on neighborhood streets, traffic congestion, safety hazards, and a larger environmental footprint.

One Hauler, One Smart Solution

A single-hauler system would consolidate trash and recycling services under one provider using an optimized citywide route to reduce heavy truck traffic, improves efficiency, reduces emissions, and increases accountability.

Reducing Wear and Tear on Neighborhood Streets

On any given trash day, up to six garbage trucks serve a single street causing road wear. Each of those heavy trucks does the damage of 8,000 passenger vehicles. That’s equivalent to 240,000 vehicles per week rolling across Portage roads. Less truck traffic means less wear and tear on city streets, extending the lifespan of local roads and reducing long-term maintenance costs.

Supporting Sustainability

Streamlined routes mean more efficient operations. Fewer vehicles on the road translates to lower fuel consumption and reduced emissions, contributing to the city’s broader sustainability goals.

Enhancing Service and Safety

With one provider, the city can establish performance standards to ensure reliable service, timely pickups, consistent billing, and responsive customer support. Fewer garbage trucks traveling through neighborhoods will also reduce traffic congestion and minimize the risk of accidents, making streets safer for drivers, pedestrians, and children.

Lower Costs, More Predictability

One of the most significant advantages of a single-hauler system is cost efficiency. By consolidating services and negotiating bulk pricing, the city estimates that Portage households will save an average of 44% on waste collection services.

To ensure residents receive the best service at the lowest cost, the City of Portage invited all licensed waste haulers to submit competitive bids to serve the entire city. The low bid came in at $14.04 per month for garbage service, an average savings of 44%.

Residents currently pay anywhere between $14.50 and over

$50 per month for garbage service, depending on their provider and plan. With a single hauler, every household will pay the same low rate for the same quality service.

Billing will also become more transparent. Instead of navigating contracts and varying rates from multiple companies, all residents will receive consistent, predictable billing directly from the selected hauler. Importantly, these costs will not be added to property taxes; households will be billed directly by the waste provider.

While some concerns have been raised about reduced competition, city officials emphasize that the move is not about eliminating choice, but rather about improving service through a more strategic, city-wide approach. All qualified haulers were invited to submit their most competitive bids. This process ensures transparency and fair competition while delivering the best value and service to Portage residents.

What’s Next?

The City Council will review the City Administration’s recommendation and vote on the selected provider during an upcoming City Council meeting. If approved, the transition to a single-hauler system is expected to begin in the coming months, with additional information and timelines provided to residents in The Portager, at portagemi.gov and through our social media channels.

Public Feedback Continues to Shape Portage Road 360

Thank you, Portage! Your voices continue to shape the future of the Portage Road corridor through the Portage Road 360 project. Nearly 70 community members attended the Portage Road 360 Community Open House #4 on Wednesday, June 18, at the Portage Zhang Senior Center, once again showing the strong commitment of residents to improving this vital corridor.

Portage Road 360 is an initiative to create a safer, more accessible, and connected roadway that enhances both mobility and quality of life.

At the event, the city’s planning team presented final community goals and vision boards summarizing feedback gathered from ongoing public engagement. Preliminary design recommendations were also unveiled, featuring proposed cross-sections, multi-use paths, intersection improvements, and traffic calming elements – each based on traffic studies and input from previous public sessions.

A new addition to this open house was a set of interactive stations, where participants engaged directly with project experts and shared their preferences through dot voting. Attendees weighed in on site furnishings, lighting, gateway features, pavement materials, and landscaping options, helping to refine the look and feel of the corridor.

In May, the project team also hosted three focus group sessions tailored to specific segments of the corridor:

- » North (East Centre Avenue to Forest Drive)
- » Core (Forest Drive to Lakeview Avenue)
- » South (Lakeview Avenue to East Osterhout Avenue)

Residents and business owners from each area shared their insights in casual conversations, offering detailed, location-specific feedback that continues to guide the project forward.

The final open house is tentatively scheduled for September. Stay tuned for updates and more opportunities to stay involved as we move toward a final plan for a better, safer Portage Road. To view preliminary Portage Road 360 plans, visit portagemi.gov.

Celebrate Safely This 4th of July

Keep the Spark in Your Celebration – Not in Your Yard

Fireworks are a beloved part of Fourth of July festivities, lighting up the summer night sky with bursts of color and excitement. But behind the fun, there’s a serious reminder: safety must come first.

In 2024 alone, 156 fireworks-related injuries were reported in Michigan during the July 4 holiday period – 98 of them serious enough to require emergency treatment. Most of these injuries involved the hands and fingers (35%), followed by the head, face, and ears (22%). Nearly half were burns, and common culprits included mortars, Roman candles, bottle rockets, and even sparklers.

Nationally, fireworks sales have skyrocketed, reaching $2.7 billion this year, compared to just $610 million in 2000. With the growing popularity of consumer fireworks comes greater responsibility to handle them safely.

Before you light that fuse, take a moment to plan ahead and follow a few simple precautions. Your celebration – and your neighborhood – will be safer for it.

When and Where Portage Residents Can Use Fireworks

In Michigan, fireworks can only be used by individuals 18 and older and must be lit on private property (never in streets, parks, school or church grounds). Under Michigan law, this year consumer fireworks may be ignited from Sunday, June 29 to Saturday, July 5 from 11 AM to 11:45 PM. The City of Portage is required to follow this state law and cannot impose more restrictive regulations.

Safety Tips for a Sparkling (and Safe) Holiday:

Read Instructions Every Time. Even if you’ve used fireworks before, always follow the manufacturer’s directions. Never allow young children to handle fireworks, and remember that sparklers can reach temperatures between 1,200–1,800°F – hot enough to melt glass.

Choose Safer Alternatives. Glow sticks, LED wands, and other light-up toys offer festive fun without the risk of burns, especially for young children.

Set Up in a Safe Area. Only use fireworks outdoors, in an open paved space away from homes, dry grass, trees, or anything flammable. Maintain at least 25 feet of clearance and avoid lighting under overhangs or power lines.

Use One at a Time. Light fireworks one at a time and step back immediately. Never attempt to relight a dud – it’s one of the most common causes of injury.

Keep Water Handy. Have a hose or bucket of water nearby in case of fire. Soak used fireworks before disposing of them to prevent late-night flare-ups.

Know When to Seek Help. In case of injury, get medical assistance right away. For eye injuries, do not rub or rinse; keep the person still and seek professional care.

Follow the Law – and Be a Good Neighbor. Be considerate of your neighbors, especially those with pets, young children, or veterans who may be sensitive to loud noises. While fireworks may be exciting for some, they can be distressing for others.

Let’s keep this Fourth of July focused on family, fun, and freedom – not on preventable injuries or fire hazards. With a little planning and care, everyone can enjoy a bright and safe celebration.

Home Repair Funding

Are you struggling with home repair needs that you cannot afford to fix? The City of Portage Community Development Department has a forgivable loan program for “necessary” home repairs. This program has traditionally been available for replacing existing components, such as your roof, furnace, and electrical updates, along with energy efficiency improvements. However, we now allow additions and alterations when the work improves accessibility to address health and safety concerns. This can include driveway surface upgrades or exterior ramps to support the use of a wheelchair, walker, or accessibility device, or an air conditioner for documented indoor air quality needs.

Forgivable loans are available to eligible homeowners on a first-come, first-served basis, while funding is available. Funding is through a U.S. Department of Housing & Urban Development (HUD) Community Development Block Grant and also a MI Neighborhood Grant through the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA). In some instances, our program can accommodate households with an annual income of up to 120% of the area median income. Call us at 324-9280 to learn more!
